

Fun Facts about Hillary

Hillary had three other children when she found out she was pregnant.

Hillary did not have the means to take care of another child.

Hillary told her adoptive parents not to let her call them or see the baby.

Hillary changed her mind a few days after placement and called the adoptive parents asking for pictures and information about her baby. She got in the car and drove to Florida to pick up her son. The adoptive parents were heartbroken and adopted another baby. She discovered quickly that she could not provide what he needed so she contacted the adoption agency to see if the former adoptive parents would take him back.

Hillary was in a toxic relationship with her boyfriend when she got pregnant.

Hillary has a good relationship with the adoptive parents and her son.

Hillary recommends that no final decision is made based on your feelings. She believes you should look at all three of your options in your pregnancy.

Hillary believes setting boundaries is important.

Hillary knows firsthand that life after placement is not easy.