

Fun Facts about Morgan

Morgan did not have good role models in her life.

Morgan's boyfriend wanted her to abort. She was thinking at that time that she may want to parent.

Morgan realized she was not strong enough to raise a child.

Morgan chose open adoption for her child because she loved her child.

Morgan had peace about her decision.

Morgan was 29 when she placed her child for adoption.

Morgan did not want her child to fail because of her shortcomings.

Morgan has a good relationship with her child's adoptive parents.

Morgan talked to God frequently to grieve the loss of her child through adoption and her loss through a previous abortion.

Morgan's family told her to abort the baby.